CALL TO ARTISTS: ACC, SONORAN ARTS LEAGUE PARTNER FOR EXHIBIT AT ANTHEM CIVIC BUILDING

Anthem, Ariz. – “Art in Public Places” will debut at the Anthem Civic Building this fall as a partnership between the Anthem Community Council and the Sonoran Arts League. The juried exhibit of art will be selected from submissions received beginning Aug. 1 and displayed beginning Oct. 2.

The family-friendly exhibit will coincide with the special release of an Anthem Veterans Memorial art piece by local artist Renee Palmer-Jones, which will be auctioned for the Memorial’s fifth anniversary this fall.

Key criteria for interested artists:

- Art may be any two- or three-dimensional medium, with the exception of jewelry (there is space for approximately 40 pieces).
- Artwork must be original; up to four pieces may be entered per artist.
- Artists must be at least 18 years of age.
- Artists must be located in Anthem or any North Valley location.
- Amateur and professional artwork will be accepted.
- Pieces displayed may be for sale.
- Initial exhibit will run for four months (October through January).
- There is a $25 non-refundable entry fee for submissions.

For the first rotation, artists may register to submit between Aug. 1 and Sept. 20 via the Sonoran Arts League website. The on-site jury day is Oct. 1, with art hanging to take place Oct. 2.

“Public art brings value to a community and the Anthem Civic Building is the perfect canvas. We envision this program as inspiring, thought-provoking and inclusive,” said ACC Management Analyst Meghann Hill, project lead on the program.
