

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Date: Friday, April 7, 2017

Source: Kristi Northcutt, Anthem Community Council, 623-742-6065, knorthcutt@anthemcouncil.com

News tips/Keywords: Music in May, concert series, free, live music, Community Park, family fun

Photos/Logos: OnlineAtAnthem.com/media-kits

MUSIC IN MAY PROMISES DIVERSE LINEUP AND GREAT FOOD TO CONCERT-GOERS

Anthem, Ariz. – Four weeks of free concerts come to life at Anthem Community Park as Music in May returns for a sweet-16th season. A different act takes the stage each Friday in May, 7-9 p.m. Performers will bring a variety of classics and modern favorites to life at the Amphitheater.

Attendees at the free, family-friendly event are encouraged to bring blankets, lawn chairs, picnics and flashlights. Food trucks will be on site for the opening performance for the fifth year in a row; an ice cream truck will be available the remaining weeks.

This year's lineup includes:

May 5: Georgia Chrome

Georgia Chrome will kick off Music in May for 2017 on Cinco de Mayo! Judging by their fun and energy-packed shows, they surely won't disappoint. The group's catalog includes the latest country hits, old school Americana and everything in between. Whether it's Miranda Lambert, Dierks Bentley or Taylor Swift, Georgia Chrome is sure to make the audience get up and dance.

May 12: Bounce

Bounce is truly a global musical act. This seven-person band includes members from around the world: Canada, Austria and even here in the Valley. They have collaborated with a diverse list of entertainers, as well. From Stevie Wonder to B.B. King to Sister Sledge, Bounce certainly has the resume to back up their tremendous talent. The Anthem show will be filled with today's hits and classics from the past when Bounce takes the stage.

May 19: SuperHero

If you're looking for a high-energy, fun, interactive and engaging band, then mark this performance on your calendar. Music from the 70s all the way to today's hits will be sure to get the crowd singing and dancing under the Arizona skies.

May 26: NineBall

NineBall will take the stage for the finale of Music in May. This local Phoenix band has been entertaining audiences since 2003 with some of the best talent in the Valley. Their set list is sure to feature something for everyone: Justin Timberlake, Tom Petty, Phil Collins and Florida Georgia Line are just a few of the acts covered by this versatile act.

Music in May attracts about 2,500 residents and guests each week. Special Events Director Michele DeMichele said, "Music in May rises to the top of everyone's favorite special event in Anthem. It is an opportunity for our residents to cut loose and enjoy quality live music, beautiful weather (we hope), and time with friends and family. We look forward to another great year at the Amphitheater!"

BrightView Landscapes, The Prickett Group and State Farm-Justin Simons Agency are this year's Music in May event sponsors; stop by their tents at each concert to learn more about their contributions to Anthem.

Concerts take place in the Amphitheater at Anthem Community Park, located at 41703 N. Gavilan Peak Pkwy. To learn more about Music in May, visit OnlineAtAnthem.com/music-may.

###