Anthem Community Council selected to serve as host site to Community Association Institute

Anthem, Ariz. – The Anthem Community Council (ACC) proudly announces that it has been selected to serve as host site for the Community Association Institute’s (CAI) Professional Community Association Manager (PCAM) Case Study on Nov. 7-8, 2013.

The case study is the culminating requirement for industry professionals who are looking to earn their PCAM designation, the highest certification in the community association industry. This extensive two-day course will incorporate class facilitation by CAI certified instructors and ACC staff presentations covering local area history, long range planning, financial review, and communication topics, as well as a tour of ACC-owned and -maintained assets.

“This is a great opportunity for us to show support for the community association industry and its professionals,” says ACC Community Executive Officer Jenna Kollings. “This illustrates that Anthem continues to be sought after as an exemplary community in which to live, work, and play.”

By participating, the ACC will receive the benefit of course participants’ analyses and recommendations that can help in the evaluation of current and future Council programs and services. Approximately 20 course participants will be in attendance.
